WORKMEN WALK OUT

SUMMER STOCK CO.

A New List of Rates Submitted By Leather Workers Last Night.

Manager English Has Secured Several of His Stock Company.

Harness Makers at Rehkopf's Walk Out —The Collar Shop Shut Down.

The Kentucky Will Open in Stock May 4th —Will Give Royalty Plays Only.

DEMANDS OF THE UNION MEN

HIGHEST CLASS OF AMUSEMENTS

Many members of the leather workers of Paducah are idle today, as a result of a walk-out at the Rehkopf Saddle Company. In all over 100 are not at work.

The union leather workers have made a demand on the Rehkopf company, Michael Bros. and the Paducah Saddle company for a uniform price on all piece work, that the firms employ only one apprentice boy to every seven journeymen, and that all girls in the shops be discharged.

There are few girls employed at present, but there are about three boys to every seven journeymen, and this is considered too many by the journeymen who make the demands.

Last night a committee waited on all the proprietors but no satisfactory answer was given them, the proprietors saying that they would answer at their leisure. The employees of the Rehkopf harness department, about fifty total, walked out last night and refused to return to work this morning, and held a meeting this morning to further discuss the rates arranged, and the general situation.

Last night Mr. Rehkopf closed down the collar shops on Court street, saying that he had a full stock of collars and that the shops would remain closed indefinitely.

This, it seems, does not suit the harness makers, some of them are in favor of a walk out in sympathy with the collar makers. There are about fifty-five out in this department.

Michael Bros. employ only two girls and say that the demands made on them will amount to little, but the proprietors talk as if they will accept the new rates. The men are all paid by the piece, each piece having a certain price, but in none of the shops are the prices uniform. This is the principal bone of contention.

Mr. Rehkopf does not seem to be in the least concerned about the situation and informed a reporter this morning that he did not care to talk, but would say that he gave the matter little thought.

The men in the Michael and Paducah Saddle shops still were at work this morning. The increase in the price will amount to about 10 cents on every set of harness, it is claimed by the workers.

A full list of the newly arranged prices was prepared by the men at a meeting this morning and the answer of the proprietors is awaited with interest. This is the first real serious trouble at Paducah between leather workers and proprietors.

It is understood this afternoon that

Michael Brothers and the Paducah

Saddle company have agreed to sign the new scale as soon as it is prepared, and another effort will be made to induce the Rehkopf company to sign this afternoon.

Manager English Has Secured Several of His Stock Company.

The Kentucky Will Open in Stock May 4th —Will Give Royalty Plays Only.

HIGHEST CLASS OF AMUSEMENTS

Manager James E. English, whose clever management of The Kentucky this season has demonstrated his ability to a most satisfactory degree, has about completed arrangements for his summer season.

He will have at The Kentucky during the summer, opening May 4th, a first class stock company, and will play only royalty plays that cost from $25 to $100 each. He last night closed a contract with Mr. True S. James, of the "A Royal Prisoner" company, to play the leads, and has four applications for the position of leading lady.

Among these are: Miss Elizabeth Lee, who was here with Harry Glaizer in "Prince Otto" this season, and is now playing in "Arizona" at London; Miss Mayne Tyler, of the Hopkins stock, Chicago; Miss Mona Carrington, of San Francisco.

Mr. Charles A. Murray of Murray and Mack will play the comedy leads, and Miss Fannie Trumbull of "Finnegan's Ball" will be one of the members of the company.

Miss Desmond, of "A Royal Prisoner" company will play the juveniles, and Mr. Allen, who took the part of the count in "A Royal Prisoner," will play the old man character parts.

Mr. English's list of attractions speaks for itself. For the first eight weeks, the following will be seen: "Incog," "Flag of Truce," "Northern Lights," "All the Comforts of Home," "Lost Paradise, or the New Dominion," Clay Clement's celebrated play, "Hazel Kirk," "Jane," "Dr. Jeckyll and Mr. Hyde," "Faust," "Sappho," "Douglas," and "La Belle Marie."

"Northern Lights" will be presented during carnival week. It is a military play, in which six horses and a company of militia will be used. The vaudeville during that week will be furnished by Miss Kitty Mitchell, who is known in the profession as "The Lady Graceful of Vanderville," and receives $250 a week.

The only interruption of the eight weeks beginning May 4th will be on May 8th, when Miss Viola Allen will appear here.

Manager English will give the public the best there is, and expects to receive a liberal patronage, which he certainly deserves.

POLICE COURT.

A MOTORMAN GETS SOAKED GOOD AND STRONG— OTHER CASES.

Houston Wilkerson, the motorman, was the principal offender in police court this morning. He and Alex Venters had a fight on South Third street the other day, and Wilkerson was badly beaten up with a switch key. He and Venters were fined $1 and costs each for a breach of the peace, and Wilkerson was charged with flourishing a pistol and with carrying one concealed. He was fined $50 and costs in the first case, and $25 and ten days in jail in the other. He went to jail to serve his sentence.

Wood Jones and Ernest Ozment, for being disorderly, and who are old offenders, were fined $30 and costs each.

"Alabama Charlie," alias Charles Harris, was charged with petty larceny. It was alleged he stole a skiff at Brookport, but it seems it got away from him. The warrant was dismissed.

Clarence Green, charged with maliciously assaulting another, was held to answer in the sum of $200.

SALE RATIFIED.

The Council Last Night Confirmed Sale of Telephone Franchise.

The Ordinance For a Spur Track For Armour & Co., Given First Passage.

The city council met last night at the city hall in called session to pass on the sale of the telephone franchise, all members being present.

Mayor Yeiser stated the object of the meeting, and announced that in pursuance to orders from the council he had sold the franchise and that Mr. J. L. Dunne of Wilkesbarre had bid $500, the highest and only bid.

Mr. Will H. Farley, of the Retail Grocers' Association, was permitted to address the council in opposition to the ratification of the sale. The only object was, he said, to prevent the inauguration of the dual system of telephones, which the grocers believed would impair the service, and put the merchants to no end of trouble and expense. One plan of these new telephones is, he said, to put telephones in residences on trial, or free of charge, and thus force the merchants to put them in down town in order to lose none of the business that results from ordering over the telephone.

Mr. J. Wheeler Campbell, for the Cumberland Telephone company, also spoke in opposition to the ratification of the franchise sale, and presented a long list of the subscribers of the present company stating that they are satisfied with the rates and service, and think another telephone system will prove detrimental to telephone service. He made a strong argument, contending that another company would not reduce rates, and greatly impair the service.

Hon. W. M. Reed, for the new company, did not speak long. He took the position that two systems were an evidence of progress.

Councilman Joe Potter did not think Judge Reed had made it plain enough, however, and kindly consented to give the council his views. He made a powerful impression on the council. His views were all the members had been waiting for, and as soon as he had expressed them, the council immediately voted to ratify the sale, all voting for it except Councilmen Johnson, Hummel and Taylor.

An ordinance giving to Armour and Co. the right to construct a spur track to their new storehouse at First and Broadway was given first passage.

WHY HE RESIGNED.

PROF. SHAFFER WOULDN'T TAKE CHARGE OF LINES.

Prof. Thomas Shaffer, teacher of the third and fourth grades in the Garfield colored school, resigned rather than carry out the instructions of Principal T. D. Hibbs, who ordered him to take charge of the lines of pupils when they march into the rooms.

Shaffer refused to take charge of the lines and said that he would give up his place first. Without notifying any one he suddenly left his room yesterday and took his resignation to a member of the school board, and there is now no teacher for those grades.

Superintendent Hatfield will select a substitute to take charge Monday.

EYE INJURED

But it is Believed Mr. Will Mix Will Not Lose His Sight.

Two Other Accidents at the Illinois Central Shops Today—Guy Randall Better.

Mr. Will Mix, an employee of the mechanical department of the I. C. shops, was injured yesterday afternoon while working on a lathe. A piece of steel flew off, a wheel he was cutting and struck him in the right eye, entering the ball. His sight has been somewhat impaired, but it is not thought the accident will deprive him of his sight entirely. The doctors will remove the steel today.

Mr. J. F. Bailey, a machinist employed in the local shops, cut his hand badly this morning while at work with a drill. He went to remove the machinery he was cutting, and the machine had not stopped entirely. It caught his hand, and before he could remove it, cut the member. The injury was dressed at the hospital.

Mr. Gus Eaker, an employee of the I. C. machine shops, was working on a driving box this morning, when he painfully injured his hand. The first finger of the right hand suffered a severe mash, and he will be laid off for some time as a result.

Mr. Guy Randall, whose oesophagus was penetrated yesterday by a piece of steel, is better today.

Engineer Joe Randall has gone out in the interest of the Union Militant, recently organized here.

Railroad officials report that there will probably be no further trouble with the cradles or inclines on either side of the river this season. As soon as the river goes down, new piling will be driven on both sides.

Negroes Object to Separation. The negroes of Jacksonville, Fla., are said to be indignant over the passing of an ordinance in the city council requiring the separation of white and colored people on the street cars. They threaten boycotting the cars and using hawks and herds.—Charleston, (S. C.) News and Courier.

A PETTY THIEF.

HE WAS CAUGHT STEALING DINNERS AND SOUNDLY THRASHED.

Car Inspector George Richardson, of the Illinois Central, who has special police powers, has adopted a novel method of punishing negroes for petty thievery. For several days past some one had been stealing the workmen's dinners and although every effort was made to apprehend the guilty party the searchers could not locate their man. Yesterday Mr. Richardson caught a strange negro "lifting" a dinner and he seized him and called the workmen to his assistance. A long piece of hose was procured and while the negro was held every one took a turn about thrashing him with the tubing. The thief will probably not be able to sit down for some time to come and it is safe to say will not come around the yards again.

Mr. Richardson thinks this a better punishment than placing them in the lockup as they rather like the latter having little to do and getting their meals free. This same method will probably be practiced permanently.

This includes all the boxes upon what is known as the Trimble street circuit, while the others that side of Broadway are being placed in condition also. It is expected to have the entire system in working order by next Saturday.

A CREED.

Over and over and over,
These truths I will weave in song.
That God's great plan needs you

That Will is greater than Destiny,
And that Love moves the world along.
However mankind may doubt it,
It shall listen and hear my creed;
That God may ever be found within,
That the worship of self is the only sin,
And the only devil is greed.
Over and over and over
These truths I will say and sing—
That Love is mightier far than Hate;
That a man's own Thought is a man's own Fate,
And that Life is a goodly thing.

WEATHER—WISE

AND OTHERWISE.

Well, we have weathered the weather of this week, and are nearer unto the good sort that must be coming by-and-by. While the social whirl has been mainly uneventful, life has not lacked for variety hereabouts, thanks to the weather. In fact, life must have a decided aromatic suggestion if variety is the spice thereof, for we have had all sorts and kinds. To plod in sun, rain, mud and slush, and then, most unkind, to have the keen rays of the soft spring sunshine manifest itself just long enough to show how very bedraggled and weather-stained our winter garments are, and to realize that as long as it is so "soft" underfoot, one must perform wear the old clothes, is enough to force anyone "to take the bankrupt law in the matter of disposition." Though March has so far been none too kind to us, surely he has something better in store for us than the usually bright and sunny February had. If things weather-wise are going to be at sixes and sevens in this fashion, let March forsake the ways that have made the madness of the March hare proverbial, and cheer us with some glimpses of spring.

It is true the weather has not kept the people from their clubs and informal amusements, we have become almost weather-hardened. However, the church attendance does not seem to stand the test of "inclement night" so well. What is the theory that makes cold caught more easily at this time than the other, and of a more severe sort? And did you ever hear of any one ordering a carriage for church on a bad night? Now, did you ever? One would not hesitate to do so for "functions" and "occasions," yet if our faith is not weather-proof and our garments as well, we needs must stay at home performe. The strange things in this great old world are not without a queer aspect often, if you stand aside and watch the multitudes pass by. The position of the "man on the fence," may be, a lonesome one, but it has some things to be recommend it, it is a good vantage point to see on every side.

DELPHIC CLUB MEETING.

An interesting meeting of the Delphic Club was held with Mrs. Frank L. Scott, of North Ninth street. Goethe was the theme of discussion. The meeting was opened by quotation from Goethe. Mrs. Lillard Sanders in an able paper gave a "Brief Sketch of Goethe's Career." Mrs. Frank Parham told charmingly of "Goethe's Sturm and Drang Period. Early Drama and Sorrow of Werther."

After the program a business session was held and officers elected for the year. Mr. Robert Becker Phillips was re-elected president; Mrs. Richard Baker was made vice president, and Mrs. John Campbell secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Frank Scott is the Delphic hostess for the month of March.

PRETTY BIRTHDAY DINING.

Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw celebrated the eightieth birthday of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, by a dining given at the handsome Bradshaw home in the West End portion of the city on Tuesday. It was a very delightful occasion and quite a handsome entertainment. Mrs. Wheeler wears her years with a charming grace, and by her brightness and lovable nature has won many friends in Paducah where she spends every winter with her daughter. Most of the guests at the pretty dining were past sixty-five years of age, and it was a most interesting occasion.

BANQUET IN MISS FLORA MAE CLARK'S HONOR.

Miss Flora Mae Clark, of Paducah, who is to appear as "Lygia" in "Quo Vadis" at The Kentucky on Monday night, and will be accorded quite an ovation in her home town, will be the guest of honor at an elaborate reception and banquet at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Clark, of West Clay street on Sunday evening.

It will be a very swell affair. The home is artistically decorated for the occasion. The banquet table will be laid with covers for thirty-six guests. The menu cards are quite a triumph of art, and will be charming souvenirs of the evening, as each one contains the picture of the fair young girl, and "L. L." the initials of her name. Lillian Lancaster done in silver. Just beneath the picture is the happy quotation:

"Tis my picture:
Refuse it not; it hath no tongue to yes you."

The quotations interspersed through the menu are all from Shakespeare's plays, and are very clever selections. The cards were designed by a sister, Miss Eugenia Clark, the talented and versatile writer, and reflect credit on her cleverness.

The menu is both elaborate and delightful.

THE AFTER-EASTER CONCERT.

Much interest is being evinced in the coming of the Jessie Bartlett Davis concert Company to our city on April 1. Not only are there many anxious to hear her, but it is, also, a matter of pride that she should come to Paducah, and then, too, the cause for which she is coming is very near to Paducah's heart, her Home of the Friendless. The ladies of the Board have been out canvassing for the tickets this week and are meeting with much encouragement. Great success should attend upon this rather daring enterprise of the Board of the Home. They have proved that their faith in their fellow citizens is great, and their faith should be rewarded and no doubt will be.

MAGAZINE CLUB MEETING.

Mrs. John P. Campbell was the hostess of the Magazine Club on Thursday afternoon. It was an unusually delightful meeting of this pleasant club, there being visitors present besides the members. Interesting reports were given by Mrs. Edward L. Atkins from the Century on "The Venice of Robert Browning," and by Miss Alice Compton from "The Outlook," on the "Children's Department of the Public Library." Mrs. B. E. Reed gave some extracts from the "Life of Eugene Fields," selected from "The Literary Digest" and "Everybody's Magazine." Harper's magazine was represented by Mrs. John Campbell who told of "Korea," and Miss Ora Leigh, who gave an entertaining article on "The Current Point of Views of Fiction." A pleasant special feature of the meeting was Miss Aline Bagby's clever recitation of "Cigarette's Ride." A delightful luncheon was charmingly served.

LET THE FUR FLY.

The people of this section have read about the Boer war and the Philippine insurrection and the Boer outrages in China, but they have not yet learned of the thrilling but unsanguinary conflict that is now being waged in Marshall county between Commonwealth's Attorney W. F. Bradshaw, of Paducah, and Attorney W. Mike Oliver, until recently editor of the Benton Tribune, and candidate for the office Mr. Bradshaw now holds. It is a war of words, but it is a warm member, and has resulted, according to Mr. Oliver's latest epistle in today's Benton Tribune, in a virtual challenge from Mr. Bradshaw to fight a duel. Mr. Oliver respectfully declines to accept, claiming that it is an effort to disqualify him from holding the office of commonwealth's attorney to which he aspires, which it would do if he accepted.

The trouble started when Mr. Oliver a few weeks ago wrote an article demanding to know who was responsible for the extravagance of criminal prosecution in Marshall county. It seems the state auditor, in his reports, called attention to the fact that prosecutions in Marshall county cost the state more than in any other county in the state, and Governor Beckham, in a message, commented on it. It is claimed that $2,305 was spent for witness fees in the conviction of only two persons last year. All witnesses for the prosecution are summoned by the commonwealth and county attorneys, and it seems that whatever justification Mr. Oliver had, it did not prevent him from provoking the wrath of the commonwealth's attorney.

So the latter replied in a letter to Mr. Oliver, and among other things said:

"I have no hesitancy in pronouncing you the most unscrupulous, licensed lawyer in the state, and the most treacherous, and cowardly friend."

If Mr. Bradshaw explained why prosecutions in Marshall county should cost the state more than anywhere else, Mr. Oliver does not record it. It seems that Mr. Oliver simply discharged a duty every newspaper man owes to the public in demanding an explanation in matters that concern the public.

Mr. Oliver answers the charge of being an unscrupulous lawyer by suggesting that if Mr. Bradshaw really believes it and has any proof of it, he should have him, Mr. Oliver, disbarred from practice at once. This seems to be a fair proposition, and if Mr. Bradshaw knows what he said to be a fact, he should do it at once, and if not, he ought to apologize to Mr. Oliver for misrepresenting him.

As to the cause of the controversy, it seems that if the commonwealth and county attorneys are not to blame for the apparently exorbitant cost of prosecutions in Marshall county, an explanation in the eyes of the people, might prove far more effective than a letter of abuse.

The Elks carnival is going to be a success, and the greater the encouragement from the merchants and public is large, the greater the success. The last year made Paducah talked of everywhere. It was the most successful carnival ever given by a city of its size, and did a vast amount of good towards calling the attention of the outside world to Paducah. This year the Elks hope to have a greater carnival than last, and ask the co-operation of the people. It is not too soon to begin. The committees want to so arrange everything that matters will pass off as smoothly as if run by clock work. All possible assistance should be rendered now and not be delayed. A great deal of the success of the event depends on what is done now.

Kentucky has lost out on the army post site deal. The sites are not to be within hundreds of miles of us. One is to be in Pennsylvania, one in Wisconsin, one in California, one in Kansas, one in Texas, and one in Georgia.

Preliminary surveys have been ordered made of the sites. We have one consolation, however, and that is that we put up a good fight for one of the posts.

Paducah wants the best possible plans for her public library. There is no reason why she should not have the best if she asks every architect who desires, to enter the competition. If the plans are properly drawn, and a competent contractor does the building, there is no reason why the architect should ever have to come to Paducah. If any changes are desired, they should be made before the plans are accepted. Minor changes can be made by the contractor.

The old minstrels are all nearly dead, but the minstrel as a show is as popular as ever. The last of the black-faced pioneers to die was Neil Bryant, at the age of seventy-two, Thursday in New York. He was the fifth to go within a few months past. There is yet another, however, who holds on with wonderful vigor—Uncle Dan Emmett, the man who wrote "Dixie," and who has been reported dying a number of times within the past few years. Up to a few years ago he was able to appear in Al Fields' minstrel, but is now living in poverty near Mt. Vernon, Ill.

The ship subsidy bill is coming in for its share of discussion in the newspapers. The Democratic press, as usual, calls it a "steal," but the Democratic press is a chronic victim of stupidity. One of the clearest, most unbiased articles ever written on the subject was in a recent issue of the Philadelphia Post by Senator M. A. Hanna. It explains in the most lucid manner the cause and effect of such a bill, and leaves no room for doubt in the mind of an unprejudiced person. The one consolation is, however, that the Republicans can pass a subsidy bill without any assistance from the Democrats.

It seems from the Washington dispatches that Congress will do something for Cuba, but just what that will be is doubtful at present. There are three propositions before the ways and means committee, one being to increase the tariff on sugar to the outside world, and offer a rebate for all imported from Cuba; another to make Cuba a present of about $8,000,000, asking her to distribute one million of it to Cuban planters, and the third proposition is to reduce duties twenty per cent. It is believed the latter is the most favored one, as it would injure no home industry.

FUNERAL OF MR. R. LOEB.

The funeral of the late Mr. R. Loeb will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Temple Israel, services by Rabbi Alexander, and interment at the Jewish cemetery. The pall bearers are: Active: Messrs. Sam Fels, Henry Dreyfus, Michael Griffin, Herman Wallerstein, Herman Friedman, Julius Weil and John W. Keeler. Honorary: Major M. Bloom, Q. Q. Quigley, Charles Reed, L. Harris J. H. Ashcraft, Jacob Weil, Simon Hess and D. A. Yeiser.

In the Far East.

Nothing is more amusing than to watch two acquaintances saluting in the streets of a Japanese town. As they come in sight of each other they slacken their pace and approach with downcast eyes and averted faces, as if neither was worthy of beholding the other; then they bow low, so as to bring the face, still averted, on a level with the knees, on which the palms of the hands are pressed, says the Penny Magazine. A succession of hissing sounds is next made, by drawing in the breath between the closed teeth, interspersed with a series of complimentary phrases, uttered with great volubility, in a sort of undertoned falsetto, each trying to outdo his friend in the rapidity and extravagance of his language, while the palms are diligently rubbed against each other.

BENEVOLENT WORK.

PROFITS ON BOOKS AT UNION GOSPEL GO TO CIVIC FEDERATION.

All the profit on the books sold during the union gospel meeting, which includes the song books, Mr. Biederwolf's sermons and other religious literature of a high grade of excellence, has been donated by Mr. Biederwolf to the Civic Federation for its benevolent work. As the books are very low in price and of a class not often found without ordering, a number have seized the opportunity to secure them, so a double good work is being done by the little books in their journeys into the homes of the people, that of helping the minds and bodies alike.

Don't forget to go to the German village tonight for fine barbecue.

PROGRESS IN AFRICA.

MISSIONARY NOTES EVIDENCE OF IMPROVEMENT MADE.

Cannibalism Entirely Wiped Out in the Congo Free State—He Thinks the Barbarians Will in Time Become Civilized.

Rev. J. N. Cowley, a missionary to the Congo Free State, Africa, talking on the condition existing in the dark continent, recited some interesting facts showing the uncivilized state of the natives, and exhibited articles made and used by them in war and in peace. He showed the scant clothing worn by the high officers of the tribes, made from grass, woven by the women. The implements of warfare, the principal weapons used, were made of iron, one of them having handle of ivory. This, Mr. Cowley said, required the greatest amount of skill. The iron ore is taken from the hills, melted in a pit in the ground, from which a small trench leads out through which the metal runs when melted. Then it is beaten into the shape desired with stones. These articles gave evidence of intelligence, the speaker thought, sufficient for a nucleus on which to base the belief that by training the barbarians could be changed into a civilized people.

He had noted some vast improvements since the beginning of missionary work in that part of the country. There was not a man in the entire Congo Free State now, he said, who would admit that he would eat human flesh, though the practice was common a few years ago. The large number of slaves killed at the death of a ruler for the purpose of accompanying the latter into the land of Nambili, the African heaven, as a practice, has been discontinued. It has been shown, the speaker declared, that the savage musical instincts of the natives were capable of being developed into a love for the hymns of the civilized world.

But, as a whole Mr. Cowley said, the people had not yet attained a very high standard of culture. They still buy and sell their wives, of whom they make slaves. Therefore, a man's wealth and affluence is measured by the number of women slaves he can afford. All the land that is cultivated, he said, is taken care of by the women, with a small hoe, horses and cattle being unknown as beasts of burden. Chickens, ducks, goats and hogs are raised to some extent. A small ant, which is so numerous as to be considered pests by civilized persons, and locusts form the staple diet. These will entirely destroy house built of wood by eating the logs and rafters, and will eat a pair of shoes in a single night if the leather is left touching the ground. The insects first cover the shoes with earth and then devour the leather.

IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD

The Kentucky's great week, beginning Sunday night:

Sunday Night—Prof. De Lancey, the Hypnotist.

Monday Night—"Quo Vadis," with Miss Flora Mae Clark as "Lygia."

Tuesday Night—"The Telephone Girl."

Wednesday Night—Miss Mary Linck in Song Recitals.

Friday Night—"Arizona."

nothing is of more absorbing interest to the cultivated and thinking world than hypnotism. Probably the most noted hypnotist of the age is Prof. Phillip De Lancey. Prof. De Lancey is the honor graduate of the Paris School of Science, where his wonderful hypnotic development was a source of absorbing interest to the teacher and student. Since his appearance on the American stage, Prof. De Lancey has been appearing in all the principal cities of the United States before immense audiences. He is touring under the auspices of the Boston Psychological Research society, an organization which is well known to students of psychology in all civilized countries.

Prof. De Lancey is a mystery to the medical and scientific world, and physicians and educators of national prominence have tried in vain to account for the marvelous power of the man. At one of the Professor's exhibitions the dean of a prominent Philadelphia medical college exclaimed, "I give it up—this man is a rascal." He always uses as his subjects volunteers from the audience before which he is appearing. Prof. De Lancey will give a special performance at the Kentucky on several new artists, and a complete physicians on the stage with the Professor.

The greatest and most successful "repeater" last and for two previous seasons, that ever came from that house of musical comedy successes, the New York Casino, was the famous and favorite musical comedy, "The Telephone Girl," and with one possible exception, it achieved larger financial returns. In all the large cities, beginning with New York, of course, it fairly coined money for its fortunate owners. In the metropolis it enjoyed a run of something like three hundred nights, and in Paris, acted a trifle differently, it made a record of three hundred and fifty performances. With as good, if not better, cast than ever, it will be the attraction at The Kentucky Tuesday night, March 11.

Carpenter's "Quo Vadis," which opened this season at the American theatre in Chicago, was pronounced by the critics to be the best dramatization of the famous novel which has been used. In view of the approval which "Quo Vadis" gained last year, it is not too much to predict an unequalled success for it this season. The company has been augmented by stupendous scenic effect ever produced, while the scene in which Lygia is rescued from the bull is made thrillingly realistic by the introduction of the entire arena scene, showing the girl bound upon the animal's horns. This is the only company on the road which presents this incident, and it has created a furore. "Quo Vadis" will be seen here next Monday night, at The Kentucky.

Next Wednesday night, March 12th, Paducah music lovers will have an opportunity to witness the rarest treat of the season. Miss Mary Linck, for five years prima donna of the Castle Square Lyric Stock Co., will give a singing recital at The Kentucky. Miss Linck will be assisted by Miss Marie Hoover Ellis, pianist.

Miss Linck is now giving concerts over the country, and after considerable correspondence, the management of The Kentucky secured her for the night mentioned. Besides being the world's greatest contralto-mezzo-soprano, having the only voice of this kind in America, she has been selected as soloist for the opening of the St. Louis Exposition. Miss Linck was born in Evansville, Ind., and her first hit as a soloist was in the "Grand Duchess." She later sang the part of Nancy in "Martha," and then for nearly two years she traveled on the continent, spending most of her time in Italy perfecting herself in the Italian language. While in that country she attracted the attention of Signor Sonzogno, who offered her an engagement to sing "Beppe" in "L'Amico wards accepted an engagement with the Carl Rosa Opera Co., making her debut in "Faust," singing "Siebel" at the Royal Opera Theatre in Liverpool. This performance was the beginning of a series of triumphs that lasted for three years. In all, Miss Linck sang in fifteen operas and traveled through England and Scotland, performing in all the largest cities.

At the end of her engagement with that company she joined Sir Augustus Harris' company, creating the part played of "Hansel" in "Hansel the Gretel." She then came back to America, and played the part of the "witch." The Boston Evening News, in speaking of Miss Linck and grand opera, says: "Were I asked to name the most graceful singer on the American opera stage today, I would unhesitatingly award the place to Miss Mary Linck, the handsome young contralto of the Castle Square Opera company.

I have seen them all, from Patti to Russell, and from Hall to D'Arville: admired many, but still find none to compare with this young and talented lady, who has won first place in her chosen work simply because she is hers by right of merit."

Dainty and pretty little Adelaide Thurston, supported by Otis B. Thayer, will be seen here in her great success, "Sweet Clover," in the near future. The play is a comedy-drama, with some thrilling scenes. The production has been much admired elsewhere for its purity, poetical sweetness and general truthfulness to nature. The scenic features are described as splendid.

Friendless are meeting with great success in the sale of tickets for Miss Jessie Bartlett Davis and company, that will appear at The Kentucky Tuesday, April 1st.

Paducah theatre-goers will shortly have opportunity to witness a play which has won universal favor elsewhere, but which, for some unknown reason, has never been presented in this city. The piece is Augustus Thomas' "Arizona," first presented in Chicago, and afterwards greatly admired by the ultra-critical of New York. The company promised for the engagement here is the one which played at the Chicago Auditorium, and filled that large house at every performance. It is a military romance, both realistic and comic, and the best guarantee of its pleasing power is its universal success.

That brilliant musical comedy, "The Telephone Girl," will be seen here Tuesday night, March 11, at The Kentucky, and those who are fond of a jolly evening (and who isn't) had better be on the qui vive. She comes surrounded with her pretty sisters, clever comedians, and all that goes to constitute a first class production. Nobody should miss "The Telephone Girl."

Madame Lillian Nordica, at Wichita, Kan., the other day, sang to an audience of 2,000 persons. An unique feature of the concert was the transmission of the music by telephone to various parts of the city, also to other cities, even to Kansas City. Re-

EDDYVILLE MARRIAGE

Mr. S. N. Leonard and Miss Onie Long wed there.

Groom is well known in Paducah—Is Lyon County's Wealthiest Man.

The following from today's Eddyville Tale of Two Cities will be read here with interest by friends of Mr. Sim Leonard of Eddyville: "The friends of Mr. S. N. Leonard and Miss Onie Long were agreeably surprised when they learned of their marriage. The ceremony took place Monday evening at the parsonage in Eddyville, and was witnessed by only a few of their most intimate friends. Indeed, so well had they guarded their secret that only two or three of their best friends knew when the happy event was to take place. Rev. U. S. Tabor spoke the words that made them one."

"This is the sequel to a long courtship, and the happy couple have been overwhelmed with congratulations and good wishes from their many friends."

"Mr. Leonard is one of the most popular and best known men in this end of the state, and is president of the Farmer's Bank and Suwanee Spoke and Lumber company; also a large holder of stocks in street car lines and mineral and farming properties. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Long of Eddyville, and is one of the handsomest and most fascinating women in the state, and is greatly admired by everyone. Her exquisite beauty is only equaled by her goodness of heart and gentleness of manner. Refined, beautiful and accomplished, she will, by love, reign queen of her home."

"We congratulate Mr. Leonard in winning the heart and hand of one so fair, and join their numerous friends in wishing them a long life of happiness."

Mr. Leonard is father of Mrs. J. Wheeler Campbell of the city, and of Mr. Tom Leonard, formerly connected with the street railway here.

ceivers the size of the ordinary telephone mouthpiece were placed among the footlights. Mme. Nordica did not learn of the shrewd arrangement for the telephone concert until a few minutes before singing the last number. She was indignant, and almost refused to sing the closing selection. Mme. Nordica said after the concert that never again would she sing into a telephone, and that hereafter her managers would investigate the stage to see if there were any receivers secreted. She said that those who heard her by telephone would have a false impression of her singing.

Miss Jessie Bartlett Davis is appearing at Chicago this week, her fifth return week there this season.

Miss Flora Mae Clark in "Quo Vadis" Monday night at The Kentucky, will receive a rousing reception from her old friends.

"Tennessee's Pardner," arrived from Cairo on the Dick Fowler this morning, and will give two performances at The Kentucky, one this afternoon and the other tonight. Miss Jane Corcoran was seen in the leading role a season or two ago, but is this year in "At the Old Cross Roads."

The Introducing Habit.
It is extremely difficult for a good-natured man to escape promiscuous introductions. He might not hesitate to offend the introducer, but certainly could not do so before that unfortunate gentleman's friends, out of regard for them. Capsic enters a public resort alone, and would like to remain alone, but Trapsic, a distant acquaintance, indeed, standing with three friends, calls out to Capsic, "How do, Cap? Come here; I want to introduce you to some friends of mine." Could Capsic turn tail and flee? While resenting Trapsic's familiarity, he feels that the gentlemanlike thing to do is to meet the strangers. "Cap, shake hands with my friend Shay, my friend Squay, and my friend Skay." That is now the usual and approved formula. All good fellows, right down to the ground, but Trapsic is presuming. Why should he not first have excused himself to his friends and gone quietly to Capsic to learn, sub rosa, if the latter cared at that time to make the acquaintance of Shay, Squay and Skay? Never! Trapsic is possessed of an insane desire to introduce folk, and nothing short of a kick in the neck or a poke in the solar plexus will restore him to sanity.

DEATH IN LYON.
Rev. L. B. Duncan was called to Lyon county last night by the death of Mr. Samuel Duncan, his father, 93 years old. The deceased died at his home two miles from Eddyville, and had been a resident of Lyon county nearly all his life, having served as sheriff and been otherwise honored by the people. He leaves a wife who is 84 years old, and eight children.

TO DRAIN OAK GROVE.
Owing to the fact that much water stands in Oak Grove cemetery, the council has ordered estimates made by Engineer Wilcox on the amount of piping necessary to drain it. It is believed that between 4,000 and 5,000 feet will be necessary, from three inches to much larger pipe.

MALLORY HELD.

David Mallory, arrested at Mayfield yesterday on a charge of bootlegging by Deputy Marshal Saunders, was tried before Commissioner Gardner yesterday afternoon and held to answer, going to jail in default of a $300 bond. Mallory is father of Roy Mallory, the man who only recently served a fine here in jail for bootlegging, and was being taken to Mayfield to answer a charge there by Lieutenant Moore, when he broke away at Hickory Grove and escaped in the woods.

He leaves a wife who is 84 years old, and eight children.

TO DRAIN OAK GROVE.

Owing to the fact that much water stands in Oak Grove cemetery, the council has ordered estimates made by Engineer Wilcox on the amount of piping necessary to drain it. It is believed that between 4,000 and 5,000 feet will be necessary, from three inches to much larger pipe.

Women's Irregular Menses

Stanton, Mo., May 26, 1900.
I have always suffered with terrible pains at my monthly periods. These last three months I have taken three bottles of Wine of Cardui and three packages of Thedford's Black-Draught, according to your instructions, and now have no pains at all. As I have always suffered before, all during the time, I can safely say the medicines have done me much good. I consider your Thedford's Black-Draught a fine remedy. I think your medicines stand at the head of all others in regulating the monthly periods. SOPHIA LOTTMAN.

Regular habits are the foundation of a woman's health. She courts disastrous sickness and even death itself, when she allows herself to keep very late hours. It is unnatural for anyone to spend sleepless nights and drowsy, fretful days. This strain strikes at the vital center of womanhood, the nervous system and deranges menstruation, with all its appalling suffering, is the result.

WINE OF CARDUI

will regulate the menstrual flow. It makes strong nerves. Mrs. Lottman suffered because her menses were irregular, and Wine of Cardui cured her of a very severe illness. A woman who is careful to take Wine of Cardui to correct irregularities need never know the suffering so many of her sisters endure. Wine of Cardui has cured 1,000,000 sufferers, many worse cases than Mrs. Lottman's. Don't suffer any longer. The offer of such a remedy as Wine of Cardui puts the whole matter in your hands. Will you get a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist to-day and secure speedy relief?
